Presidents Message

Contrary to what the thermometer is reading, it is officially Fall. We may not have the changing colors of the leaves, or other evidence of the Fall season, we do have the return of the Fall/Winter/ Spring residents which tell us that 4-wheeling season is nigh. We will start out with runs in the Hualapais where temperatures are about 20 degrees cooler than the still 100+ days in Havasu.

We also have many activities coming up in addition to 4-wheeling. The London Bridge Days parade takes place on Saturday, October 27th and will cruise down McCulloch. We always have a great showing of vehicles for the parade and I hope this year is no exception. So, give your Jeep a little spit and polish and join us in the parade which celebrates Arizona's Centennial.

The annual Turkey Roast and Jeep Rodeo will take place at the Rodeo grounds this year out at SARA Park. The venue and the games will be a little different this year, with fun and surprises. The club will provide the Turkeys, Hams, rolls and appetizers, with the remainder being pot luck. We need members to sign up to either cook a turkey or a ham, or bring a side dish. Contact Joanne Malara to sign up. Mark your calendar for November 18th and come and join the fun.

Other events scheduled for the season are the Veteran's Day Parade, Awards banquet in January, and Garage sale in February. Thrown in the mix are desert and highway cleanup events and who knows what else.

Of course every month we also have Cook's Night Out and the Ladies Luncheon. We enjoy seeing all of the members at these events, so check the dates on the website and sign up with Rodger and Diana Delk. But please, if you sign up and can't make it please cancel with the Delks. If we tell restaurants to expect a certain number of guests they will go out of their way to prepare for us. If a smaller number attends it is not fair to the proprietors who are also our newsletter sponsors. It is understood that life sometimes gets in the way when we're busy making other plans, but if you sign up please show up or cancel.

So you see we have a 4-wheeling season full of runs and events and hopefully something for everyone. Meanwhile, see you on the trail!

Happy Trails, Cheryl

Desert trail ramblings……..

Here's a repeat of a few time tested H4W practices we're throwing out there as a reminder to old time Jeepers and something new for the newer members that comes in handy on our runs.

Let's all be responsible for the vehicle behind you on the trail. Make sure they see any turns you make. A good following distance is about five Jeeps lengths maximum when the trail is open and two Jeep minimum when you are dealing with obstacles. And don't forget that once you have cleared an obstacle don't blast off down the trail – wait to see if the person behind you clears it before you continue on. Much better than you needing to back up to help them and it keeps the 'accordion effect' in check.

And here's the hot skinny on 'Spotting.' If you want to be spotted speak up - we'd rather see you get through that tight spot or over the obstacle than have to deal with a stuck, or worse – a broken jeep. There is no shame in being prudent or safe. And the Trail Boss should ask 'Do you want spotting?' and "Who do you want to spot you?" Remember it is YOUR choice.

There should only be one spotter giving directions - and the peanut gallery chipping in and advising 'go for it!' just doesn't help. Trust me – we have it on video! And if you're the spotter remember to use the terms "Driver" or "Passenger" when giving instructions to indicate which direction the jeep driver is to turn. Remember, your left is their right. It is also helpful for the spotter to point the direction indicated to re-enforce the request to a stressed out driver.

Lastly the spotter should make sure that the area around the vehicle is clear of spectators. We do not need anyone hurt. It's best to wait for the dust to settle before you run up to gawk. Here's an example of the quality of photo you can take once the actions over and the scene is safe.

If you have a change of home address, (in Havasu for the Winter) please let us know so we can make sure your newsletter gets to you each month.
Remember, its your job to notify us!

Etiquette at Archeological Sites...

Being the active 4X4 club we are we have explored a lot of desolate and seldom visited areas. On occasion we've come across mining relics, an old ranch house, or ancient Indian petroglyphs. We wonder what was it like back then in the days of old, the daily challenges people must have faced, the hardy soles who braved remote lands and unforgiving environments. All we have as evidence of their lives and existence are the remnants they've left behind - the artifacts, the signs, the imprints – old stuff, antiquities – and I'm not referring to our H4W members who are 'up there' in age.

Why did the miner pick this spot and dig the mine? How long did it take him? Where did he get his supplies, his food, and his water? What happened to him? The Indian, what was he saying in the message he left on the rocks to his people who would follow him? Good water? Plentiful game here? I have gone this way? Try to figure out if that petroglyph is a man or a lizard . . . and all that fun stuff.

All this amazing and interesting stuff they formally title as 'archeological sites.' These sites, because of their unique insight into man's past and our history are protected by law to preserve them for the generations to come. And many archaeological sites still have profound cultural and religious value to living Native Americans. Some may even be burial places. Treat these places with respect and you'll also be respecting today's tribes.

When people steal pottery it robs archaeologists of valuable information such as cultural affiliation and trade relationships with other groups. It also robs the next visitor of the opportunity to see it.

Picking up an artifact then placing it somewhere else makes it difficult for archaeologists to obtain accurate information not only from what they find but also from where they find it. If you visited a modern house and the stove had been moved into the living room, wouldn't you be a bit confused as to which room served which purpose?

Oil from human hands erodes petroglyphs and causes the delicate pigments in pictographs to disintegrate so look, take plenty of pictures but please don't touch.

Here's another reason not to damage ruins or steal artifacts: It's illegal. A variety of laws protect archaeological resources. These include, but are not limited to, the federal Archaeological Resources Protection Act. It prohibits the removal of pottery and all other artifacts and the defacing or removal of rock art from archaeological sites on all federal lands. Violators can be charged with a felony and have their 4X4 confiscated.

Ward Bond sounds off on Trail Boss

♫ Roll Along Wagon Train, rollin' over prairies where there ain't no grass, rollin' over mountains where there ain't no pass, sittin' all aboard high in the weather, praying to the Lord we stay together, side by side on the wagon train….♪

"Now listen up Pilgrims, us Trail Bosses have got together and they hereby appointed me to explain the way things are done out here on a run."

"The trail bosses are all fired up over lousy CB radios. Seems some folks just don't understand that a good clear radio signal is just as important as a functioning 4X4 system. If you don't get the message you may have a problem out on the trail. We don't like problems so git your stuff squared away pronto! If you know your unit is not working too good holler out at the next meeting and we'll get you help."

So don't be giving me any flimsy tin horn jabber flap about it! Test your unit now before the jeeping season gets hot & heavy. Do this by having a buddy come over and try talking to each other. Swap jeeps and have him circle the area a block or two away. With the engine running transmit a few times. This way you'll hear what your rig sounds like. Fuzzy or scratchy transmissions could be an antenna tuning problem which is an easy fix with a meter. Cutting in & out is probably a loose antenna connection. – check that mounting bolt. Weak signal could be a poor ground connection. And believe it or not there is a proper technique to using a mike. It should be one inch from you mouth and you speak directly into it. Think about holding the mike so it barely touches the tip of your nose. If you aren't sure speak up at the next meeting.

By Bruce Speirs

Trail bosses, event-hosts and coordinators plan club activities around signup sheets, phone calls, and e-mail RSVP's indicating you wanted to participate. Sometimes we forget that we have committed ourselves to them. Please write yourself a reminder that you put your name down to attend. If you can't be there, please give the responsible person a courtesy call say….

"Sorry, but we must cancel."

RATING	DESCRIPTION
1	EASIEST: Passable by stock vehicles. Gentle fairly wide grades.
2	EASY: Use of 2 wheel and some 4-wheel drive. Trail may have some rocks, loose road surface, and ruts but a reasonable line for driving.
3	EASIEST MODERATE: 4-wheel drive with aggressive tire treads. Expect a rough road with rocks and sand that requires lower tire pressure. Substantial sections of single lane.
3¼	MODERATE: Some 4 wheel driving experience needed. Same as above with some use of high and low range gearing. These trails have a rough, rutted surface, rocks and deep sand. Sections may be steep enough to cause traction problems, narrow shelf roads with steep drop -offs and tight clearance between rocks.
3½	HARDER MODERATE: For experienced drivers. At least a 2" lift and 33' tires with aggressive tire tread, one locked differential, high and low range gearing. Potentially dangerous, large rocks, ruts, steep slopes, loose surface and narrow clearances that need to be negotiated.
3¾	HARDEST MODERATE: Skilled experienced drivers only. Same as above with both differentials locked, some strapping/winching. Very challenging sections, extremely steep grades, loose surfaces, large rocks, deep ruts and tight clearances.
4	DIFFICULT: Highly skilled experienced drivers only. Same as above with belly up, 4 to 1 transfer case or equivalent, skid plates, beefed up axles and suspension system. Probable strapping/winching. Vehicle width and wheelbase should be considered. Possible body damage.
5	HARD: All of the above. Probable body damage.
